

Being a column in which the publisher just "blows off the steam."

By Willard Jones

JOHNNY BRYANT is learning a lot about the insurance business. To be sure, he has already mastered most of the details—but he still finds that there is plenty to learn.

In fact, only this week he was given some modern phrases for the industry, viz:

Lapse—What people get when they sit down.

Juvenile Coverage—Diapers.

Disability Benefit—A raffle to buy someone a wooden leg.

Extended Term Insurance—Protection again a long jail sentence.

Grace Period—Just before your meals.

THERE WAS ONCE a snail in the bottom of a well 16 feet deep. Trying to get out, the snail would climb four feet every day, but each night the poor snail would slide back three feet. How many days did it take the snail to get to the top?

"Oh, that's easy," you may say. "Sixteen days, of course—one foot a day gain, and 16 feet the trip." But wait a minute! Think again. (See bottom of column).

"OIL ABOUT IT" column in The Rochester Reporter has fun talking about advertising in his June 19 issue.

In case you missed it, here is your chance:

Some advertising is misleading—all of it is not so straightforward as such local ads that say "Fresh Grade A Fryers, lb. 39 cents."

You've noticed that every now and then we publish in our want ad column the advice to investigate thoroughly any company requiring investment of your money for employment.

Now the Texas Press Association has advised us on several occasions that there is a genuine gyp connected with similar deals... and besides that the ads have proven to be misleading.

And we try to weed out the ones the TPA says are strictly gyp, but sometimes we can't tell which are and which are not—so we're taking their money for the ads, but be careful how they take yours!

But weekly newspapers have fewer "junk" ads than many publications.

Take some Sunday supplements, for example...

Ads in these would lead you to think that everybody, from baby to grandpa, was suffering needlessly—some are too skinny, others are plagued with slipping false teeth, others are afflicted with nervous tension. Some are nagged by backache, others have tired, aching feet, and still others have corns, callouses, athlete's foot and middle-age spread.

And there are those who have constipation, bladder discomfort, clogged sinuses, have bad breath; and the baby, of course, is miserable with teething pain and diaper rash.

The remedies are plentiful and sure.

New scientific discoveries keep you from getting up nights, fix you up with firm solid flesh, keep you from being irritable, put on or take off weight, et cetera.

And some folks believe anything they are told.

THE FARMER BOY from Sylvester community was doing his awkward best to work up to proposing.

"Betty Lou," he began, "I got me some fields cleared." (Long pause). "An' I got me a team of horses, and some hogs and cows, and chickens." (Long pause and a gulp). "An' this fall I'm gonna build me a house. An'..."

"Betty Lou!" shouted her mother, "is that young fellow there yet?"

"No, Maw," answered Betty Lou smugly, "but he's a-gittin' there!"

TWO HAMLIN FELLOWS were talking the other day about a friend who had pulled a little job of deceit on his wife.

"Talk about Napoleon! That fellow Johnson is something of a strategist himself."

"As to how?"

"Got his salary raised some six months ago, and his wife hasn't found it out yet."

Snail Puzzle.—Each day the snail really gained only one foot in getting out of the 16-foot well. At the end of the twelfth day it had reached 15 feet, but slid back to 12 feet during the night. But on the thirteenth day it reached 16 feet—the top of the well—so it was out.

Continued from Page 1. The programs will be features of a series of evangelistic services beginning Tuesday evening, August 26, at the Foursquare Church in Hamlin and continuing through Sunday, September 7. Rev. and Mrs. George Farrar (above) are accomplished musicians who bring special instruments in a unique trailer for their presentations.

First Bale of 1958 Cotton in Tuesday

First bale of 1958 cotton for the Hamlin territory was brought in Tuesday morning by O. L. Cohorn of the Dovie community, east of town.

This August 19 bale was one day later than the 1957 first bale, which was brought in by a Sylvester farmer. First 1956 cotton was harvested by W. J. Madden

Jerry Floyd Briscoe Gets Sul Ross Degree

A student from Hamlin is due to be among graduates who will receive degrees this (Thursday) evening at summer commencement exercises at Sul Ross State College at Alpine.

Cooperation of Parents, Teachers and Students Urged by Superintendent

"We are looking forward to a very profitable and enjoyable school year," declared Superintendent of Schools C. F. Cook this week as preparations were being rounded out for beginning of the new school term, which will get underway September 2. Cook made the following general statement:

Hamlin Public Schools will open on Tuesday, September 2. The general faculty meeting will be Friday morning, August 29, at 10:00 a. m. in the high school library. After this meeting the principals will meet or arrange for meetings with their faculties. Most students have been registered and schedules are complete.

We are looking for a successful school year. If the students, faculty and parents continue to cooperate as they have in the past, I see no reason why we cannot have our best school year.

In some of our schools last year we had some unpleasant experiences. There were several reasons for this: Namely, several new teachers, lack of interest in many of our students, and lack of cooperation between our teachers and parents. We need to have all the help and cooperation that can possibly be given by all concerned.

We as teachers will admit that so many times we are in error, but this is only human; therefore, we must have the best of understanding and cooperation from the parent.

It is very necessary that we have good conduct in our classes in order to do a good job teaching. As superintendent of schools I am instructing all teachers in the Hamlin public schools that from his farm eight miles west of Hamlin. The 1955 first bale was harvested by W. J. Waddle on August 14, and the 1954 first bale was brought in by J. A. Harden on August 15.

The 1,940 pounds of seed cotton for the 1958 first bale was gathered by Cohorn from 13 acres of land. He said his crop would this year make about a quarter of a bale per acre. The bale was ginned free by the Farmers Cooperative Gin of Neida. It made a 478-pound bale of lint cotton and yielded 820 pounds of seed.

The first bale had not been graded Wednesday morning and had not been sold, according to G. W. Drummond, manager of the Neida gin.

Cohorn's cotton was planted on April 20, and was among some of the earliest cotton in the section.

good conduct is a must, and if your child cannot meet our rules, regulations and policies, it will be necessary that we take action to secure this end. I trust that everyone will cooperate—student, teacher and parent—because a good school is very vital.

This community has shown me that they are interested in a good school. I pledge my efforts to see that you get the best school we can have in Hamlin. Please call on the teachers and administration any time you desire to discuss school students or just visit your schools.

LUMBER YARD RUINS WERE STILL SMOLDERING middle of the week many hours after the devastating flames Saturday evening did nearly $100,000 damage in destroying the big lumber yard and supply houses of R. B. Spencer & Company. This view, taken from atop The Herald building across the alley, shows the debris from the burned lumber and twisted sheet iron that covered the lumber sheds piled in a hedge-nod after hours of burning. Members of the Volunteer Fire Department spent two nights and most of two days at the site with fire trucks nearby to prevent any spread of flames from sparks that might arise from the smoldering mass. Only the central and south portions of the yards are shown in this view.

Record Number of Students Enrolled In DePriest School

DePriest Colored School last week got off to a fine start with an all-time record enrollment, declares Principal E. S. Morgan. The enrollment at week-end at totaled 190 students, compared with 162 at the end of the first week last year.

Morgan said that he expected more than 200 to be enrolled before the first of the year.

Another teacher has been added to the faculty at DePriest, making a total of nine on the staff. Newest addition is Mrs. Norvell Williams, who comes from Abilene. She received her AB degree from Texas State University at Houston. She will teach fifth and sixth grades and direct the school band.

Other teachers are: Mrs. Dollie Brown, who teaches first grade; Mrs. E. S. Morgan, second and third grades; Mrs. O. L. Moseley, third and fourth grades; Noble Canada, seventh and eighth grades; Mrs. W. C. Butler, high school English; Roosevelt Jones, mathematics and science; and Mrs. E. F. Ford, homemaking.

County 4-H Club Boys Attend Region Camp at Lake Cisco

Twenty-three 4-H Club boys represented Jones County at the annual six-county 4-H Club boys' camp held at Lake Cisco August 13 and 14, according to Kirby Clayton, county agent. Counties included in the camp are Callahan, Palo Pinto, Shackelford, Stephens, Eastland and Jones.

Boys participated in swimming races, horseshoes, washers, tug of war, and baseball. Captain Wood of the Fish and Wildlife Service from Brownwood gave an interesting talk on "Firearms Safety and Fishing."

Leaders who helped provide transportation to and from the camp were Bill DeBusk, Mr. Hugo B. Haterius, Mrs. Buck Newsum, Mrs. Birger Haterius, Mrs. Alene Wilhite and Mark Holloway.

Mark Holloway, Jones County 4-H Club member, won first place in the swimming contests, and several of the other Jones County club members won second places in the various contests.

DePriest School is due to dismiss soon for cotton picking.

MOB AIRS COMPLAINTS—A mob at Boyd tells a reporter their dislike for the Boyd police department after Police Chief Lee Y. Cockrell was shot in a Main Street gun fight. Nearly 200 gathered to cheer news of the chief's injury, complain about conditions in town since he became chief. Teen-agers predominated, but older persons also voiced dislike of the chief. Cockrell sustained several gun shot wounds in the fracas.

Nominal Interest Indicated in Saturday's Run-Off Election

Rev. Bill Hanna to Preach Farewell Message Sunday

Rev. Bill Hanna, pastor of the Hamlin Church of the Nazarene for almost two years, will deliver his farewell sermon Sunday morning. It is announced.

Rev. and Mrs. Hanna and their two children will move next week to Fort Worth, where Rev. Hanna will take up pastoral duties at the North Side Church of the Nazarene.

Sunday evening a special communion service is being planned.

In an interview with a Herald representative, Rev. Hanna observed: "We have greatly enjoyed our stay in Hamlin for these few months. Never before have we known a community more cordial and hospitable. We are deeply indebted and grateful to everyone who has helped to make our stay in Hamlin so pleasant."

A successor has been named for the Church of the Nazarene Church at Hamlin, and his acceptance is due this week.

Money Needed for Maintenance Work at Hamlin Cemetery

Due to the illness of the regular caretaker, A. F. Dixon, little work has been done during the last several weeks in the Hamlin East Cemetery, according to officials of the Hamlin Cemetery. However, it is hoped that work may be resumed soon, they said.

Association leaders urged this week that anyone who may be in arrears on dues for the maintenance of the city of the dead would please endeavor to pay up the account so that the unit will be able to carry on its work through the year without a stoppage for lack of money.

Remittances may be made to the Hamlin Cemetery Association, Box 83, at Hamlin. Further information may be secured by telephoning 299.

VISIT IN NEW MEXICO.

Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Hargrove and Mr. and Mrs. John Barnett spent last week-end in Tucuman, New Mexico, visiting Mr. and Mrs. Derrell Wheat and Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Barnett.

Two Offices in County to Decide Winners in Vote

Only moderate interest is being manifested this week by the voters of the Hamlin area in the forthcoming run-off primary election Saturday that will determine the winner in two county races and a justice of the peace race.

Several state offices also are involved in the voting that will probably register only about one-third of the county's potential voting strength, if interest over the rest of the county is about what it is in these parts.

The primary election on July 26 registered 3,378 votes, which was some 800 ballots short of the usual county voting strength. Observers here predicted that from 1,200 to 1,500 votes probably would be cast in the Saturday run-off.

Two county offices on which the election Saturday will determine the office holders for the next four years beginning January 1 are clerk of the district court and clerk of the county court. A precinct office, justice of the peace for Precinct 1 (composed of Anson and the south part of the county) also will be involved in the Saturday vote.

In the district clerk's race are W. L. (Poochey) McDonald and W. O. McGinnis. McDonald led the three-man race in the first primary.

In the county clerk's run-off are incumbent Gene Spurgin Jr. and Roy Thorn. Spurgin led the previous voting.

In the justice of the peace run-off are Albert Mathis and incumbent Joe W. Mathis. Story led in the five-man race earlier.

Youth Revival Being Led at First Methodist Church by Glasscock

Series of four evening evangelistic services sponsored by young people of the First Methodist Church began Wednesday evening at 8:00 o'clock, and will continue through Sunday evening, August 24. The services followed a pre-youth revival series of gatherings for young people of the community beginning Monday evening.

Doin gthe preaching in the four revival services is James Glasscock of Wellington, a recent graduate of McMurry College at Abilene. The past year he had held youth revivals throughout Texas. He was in Hamlin with this group about three years ago.

The public is invited to attend the series of services, according to youth leaders and church officials.

Spencer Officials Undecided About Rebuilding Yard

Origin of one of Hamlin's most disastrous fires in its 50-year history that Saturday completely destroyed the R. B. Spencer & Company lumber yard and offices Saturday evening remained a mystery at mid-week after several investigations by Fire Marshal Bryant Conner and insurance adjusters failed to reveal any clues.

The blaze, which broke out suddenly about 6:30 Saturday evening some 45 minutes after Manager A. Spencer had closed and left the yard for the day, quickly spread in the fresh lumber stacks in the shed and made a complete loss of the sheds, offices, a yard truck and a pre-fabricated five-room house that was on the north end of the yard. Records of the concern, which were in a big safe in the offices on the west side of the plant, were saved, Manager Spencer said.

Officials of the R. B. Spencer concern, with headquarters at Waco, were here Monday to check the destruction. They estimated the loss at between $80,000 and $90,000, which was "fairly well covered with insurance."

The blaze, which started in the south end of the material sheds containing roofing material, was first reported by Mrs. L. L. Cowan, owner of the Cowan Cleaners, just north of the lumber yard. She said she closed up about 6:30

TVA: THE WORLD'S GREATEST MILKING MACHINE

"It's strange how some government projects get off on the wrong track." Thus opens an editorial in the Montana Standard. And the object of the editorial's concern is the Tennessee Valley Authority.

In the beginning, let us not forget, TVA had one overriding purpose—to control floods and improve navigation on the Tennessee River. The hydro-electric power generated in the course of this work was to be strictly a by-product of relatively small importance.

But see what happened! As the Standard puts it: "TVA is primarily a power project today. Oddly enough, most of this power is generated by steam rather than falling water. As a matter of fact, 82 per cent of TVA's investment is related to the power business, and in 1956, 75 per cent of TVA's electricity was generated by steam plants."

Moreover, as the Standard points out, "the oddities of TVA do not end there." TVA represents an investment of more than $2,000,000,000. Of that huge sum, the state of Tennessee has contributed, so to speak, only chicken feed—$24,700,000. All the rest of the money came from taxpayers elsewhere. New York's bill was $294,000,000; California's $172,800,000; Illinois' $150,900,000; and so on down the list of the states.

Then, to quote the Standard once again, "Another interesting thing about TVA is that it has repaid to the U. S. treasury less than 10 per cent of the original investment, and it has never paid a penny of interest on the taxpayers' investment."

In the light of all this, is it any wonder that Investors League Bulletin characterizes TVA as "the greatest milking machine . . . in our history?" TVA has milked all taxpayers to a fare-thee-well—and the machine is still clanking away, and never pays a dime in income taxes.

Practicing Good Tactics

Three hundred years ago there lived in Connecticut a bachelor of 40, a man whose sole distinction was the dubious one of being the most sinful man in the entire colony.

At the same time there also lived in Connecticut a spinster of 32, a lady whose sole distinction was the dubious one of being the greatest shrew in the entire colony.

So, they were married, leaving everybody in complete agreement that such a marriage couldn't possibly last.

A few weeks passed. As had been expected, the bridegroom had become a haggard and driven man. No sympathy was wasted on him. "After all," his friends told him, "you knew what she was like. Why did you marry her?"

Now our hero for all his faults, was a shrewd man, and the solution to his problem suddenly dawned on him. "My friends," he confided, "I will tell you exactly why I married Agatha. As you know, I have led a wild life, one which requires great penance. How could I hope to go to heaven unless I could first suffer for my sins while still on earth? Who could best make me suffer? Agatha! So, I married her."

In a few hours the bridegroom's "secret" was known all over town, and a meddling soul (with the best of intentions, mind you) relayed it to the bride.

"The scoundrell!" she exploded. "Does he think I'll be his packhorse to take him to heaven? I'll show him!"

We are told that from that day on Agatha was the most pleasant, devoted and considerate wife that any man could hope to have, so that her husband became one of those fortunate men who succeed in tasting heaven while still on earth.

Is the Back Door Open?

History records that while the Christians were holding the city of Constantinople in the fifteenth century behind its massive 100-foot-high wall, an enemy soldier discovered a back door in the wall, open and unguarded. While the Christians battled from the parapets, the Moslems slipped through the unguarded door and the city was taken.

The United States is perhaps as impregnable from outside attack as was Constantinople, but it may also be as vulnerable from within. While our country is spending billions of dollars for defenses to protect itself from freedom destroying invaders, is it leaving a back door open?

A socialistic trend that has persisted in the U. S. in recent years continues to encroach on private citizens and industry. The affairs of the country fall more and more under the control of invading bureaucracy. The we are gradually breaching our defenses of individual freedom and personal liberty.

Six Mistakes of Man

Cicero wrote 2,000 years ago that mankind was always making these six mistakes, and things haven't changed much since that time—we're still making them:

1. The delusion that individual advancement is made by crushing others.
2. The tendency to worry about things that cannot be changed or corrected.
3. Insisting that a thing is impossible because we ourselves cannot accomplish it.
4. Refusing to set aside trivial preferences.
5. Neglecting development and refinement of mind, and not acquiring the habits of reading and study.
6. Attempting to compel other people to believe and live as we do.

The Unknown Future

A business man was allowed to have one single wish come true. In order to make it go as far as possible in many different directions, he asked for a copy of his state newspaper dated exactly six months into the future.

Miraculously, the paper was placed in his hands. He made many notes on stocks that had gone up, others that had gone down. He noted the position of baseball teams in order to make some private bets among friends. He read up on the international situation and the political developments that had occurred.

On the last page was the obituary column. Heading the list was his own name. He had suffered a heart attack the previous day.

The single greatest blessing we have in life is not to know what lies ahead.

Each One Doing His Best

The story of the Yankee peddler reminds us that most of our great business firms started on a shoestring. Even greater numbers of medium-sized and small firms originated in the same way, and are today making valued contributions to our economy.

The businessman who directs the expenditure of millions and the labor of thousands bears a tremendous responsibility to society. The man who operates a peanut stand or is employed in a so-called "minor" capacity usually has only a small impact on society, but is carrying just as great a responsibility as the big operator.

Every individual of character does his best at whatever he happens to be engaged. To the peanut vendor the quality of his peanuts and the volume of his sales are just as important as the quality and sales volume of his products are to the chairman of the board of our largest corporation. Each man does his best in his own way.

In our society we cannot place too much stress on this. Our success can be measured by the degree of pride with which each man, regardless of the "size" of his job, can honestly appraise his own efforts.

Checking Child's Health Before School Starts Is Vital, Says Health Official

Is your child starting to school this year for the first time? If so, is he ready for it? There is still some time left before school begins, and now is the time to prepare him for his exciting adventure.

He needs to start his school life in good physical health. Have your family physician give him a complete physical examination even though he has periodically examined your child in the last few years. An eye test is very important, and teeth should be checked by the family dentist. Now is the time to recheck and correct any defects not found in the past before school begins.

Most likely your child has already been immunized against polio, diphtheria, tetanus, whooping cough (pertussis) and smallpox, but if he hasn't, have these immunizations started immediately for his own protection and that of his classmates. And, by all means, do not wait until school starts for those polio shots. Even if all immunizations have been done, be sure to check with your doctor about necessary booster shots.

Your child should have escaped these "childhood" diseases by early and correct immunization while he was still in the protective atmosphere of his home, but once he starts he will be exposed to conditions that he is unfamiliar with and may not be able to cope with if he is not protected. Be sure and learn how his school handles sudden illness or accidents and your role in avoiding them.

He should know how to wash his face and hands, how to comb his hair, and how to use a handkerchief or tissue, not only for blowing his nose, but for covering a cough or sneeze.

Perhaps the most important part of your child's preparation for school is his mental and emotional outlook. Learning to give and take, to get along with others, will be necessary at school—and throughout life. If he has felt secure in your affection, has learned to take his place in the family group, shared in small responsibilities and learned to do some things on his own—if he has played with children his own age, the chances are that he will get along well at school.

But there are other factors, too. Not enough sleep can make him tired and edgy. He may need from 10 to 12 hours a night to build up his energy. If you have not already begun, now is the time to see that your child has plenty of sleep regularly.

As parents, you will play the leading role in the development of your child's character and personality. His future depends more than anything else on your support and encouragement in his outside activities.

NOTHING BUT THE TRUTH.

"Young man," said the boss, "you told me yesterday afternoon you had a date with your dentist."

"Yes, sir, I did."

"But I saw you at the ball game."

"Yes, sir, the taxi man sitting next to me was my dentist."

BARGAIN AT THAT.

"That's a good looking car you have, Jim. What did you give for it?"

"Rather not tell you, friend. Let's just say I gave the man my note for it."

"Got it real cheap then, didn't you?"

House and Senate Approve Farm Bill Designed to Give Cotton Farmer Relief

The U. S. Senate Monday night approved a controversial farm bill expected to benefit cotton and rice interests this election year.

Farmers of the Hamlin area contacted by a Herald representative were mixed in their reactions to the effects the bill would have on acreage cut-backs and lowered government price supports.

The measure now goes to the white house.

By a voice vote after brief debate, senators reversed their previous demands for a compromise effort with the House and accepted changes made there in a Senate bill.

Major provisions of the compromise would prevent drastic cut-backs in planting allowances for cotton and rice farmers next year; remove planting controls from corn farmers; and continue a wool subsidy program for three more years.

Secretary of Agriculture Benson has indicated the president will approve the measure because it permits lower government price supports on cotton, rice, corn and other livestock feed grains.

Farm belt opponents to Benson in Congress reluctantly agreed to these features in order to prevent drastic cut-backs in plantings of cotton and rice.

Existing law, which gives the secretary of agriculture authority to hold down acreage allotments eligible for price supports on major crops, also requires support levels between 75 and 90 per cent of parity on corn, cotton and rice.

Parity is a computed price level intended to give farm products a fair return in relation to production costs.

The new bill permits the minimum or floor to drop to 65 per cent of parity. Benson had asked and the Senate voted a lower 60 per cent minimum.

Along with the lower supports, the bill prevents a cut in cotton acreage below 16,000,000 acres or in rice below the allotment of this year.

Ysleta del Sur, established in 1682 near El Paso, is Texas' oldest permanent settlement.

TEXAS BACKFIELD COMBINATION BROKEN UP—With Max Alvis (top) signing a professional baseball contract, the University of Texas retains only half of the combination that gave it exceptional halfback play last year. Returning for his junior year will be George Blanch of Nixon, one of only three starters returning for this year's grid team.

OBVIOUS MARK.

"My sakes," declared the mother-in-law as she surveyed the twins. "How do you tell them apart?"

"It's easy," the proud father replied. "Jimmy cries a lot, but little Marie just sleeps all the time."

People of Retirement Age Should Check SS Elderly Citizens Now

If you've reached retirement age (65 for men and 62 for women), H. C. Haney of the Abilene office of the Social Security Administration wants to see you on his next trip to Hamlin—provided you have some social security credits on your record.

He says he is finding many folks who miss out on some retirement checks because of the mistaken idea that all work must stop before any social security checks are due.

So, local readers with sufficient birthdays and a couple of years or more of social security credits should plan now to see Haney here at the fire station at 10:00 o'clock on Tuesday, September 9.

Louis C. Brown Takes Part in Maneuvers

Private First Class, Louis C. Brown, son of Mrs. Theresa Brown of Route 2, Hamlin, recently participated in a demonstration of Army artillery weapons for Turkish officers at Baumholder, Germany, according to a news release from that base to The Herald.

A cannoneer in the 265th Field Artillery Battalion, Brown entered the Army in May, 1957, completed basic training at Fort Polk, Louisiana, and arrived in Europe last May.

The 18-year-old soldier is a 1957 graduate of Oscar DePriest High School in Hamlin.

Texas' present capitol building was dedicated in May, 1888.

Three from Area Included in Draft Call in September

An estimated three from Jones County are due to be included in the draft quota for September.

The state quota for Texas draft boards in September calls for 573 men, Colonel Morris S. Schwartz, state selective service director, said Friday.

The state's September call of 573 compares with a quota of 539 for August, previously announced. The September call is the state's share of a national call of 11,000 men, all for the Army.

The state director of selective service also announced that 1,048 men were scheduled to take pre-induction and mental and physical examinations in September.

The September quota will be filled with men who are at least 22 years old on September 1, with exception of volunteers or delinquents, who may be younger.

Some reservists and National Guardsmen also may be called up if they fail to participate satisfactorily in their units.

WRONG QUESTION.

A mother with six children boarded a bus and gave the driver so much trouble that he said at the end of the trip:

"Lady, I wonder why you don't leave half of your youngsters at home when you travel."

The mother looked him straight in the eye and answered, "I did!"

Unique Programs of Music Scheduled at Foursquare Church

Rev. and Mrs. George Farrar will be conducting revival services at the Foursquare Church in Hamlin beginning Tuesday, August 26, and continuing through Sunday, September 7, it is announced by the pastor, Rev. John Holland.

The unique and accomplished musical program that will accompany the spirit-filled ministry of Rev. Farrar will be a blessing to all who attend, Holland asserts. It will include special piano, organ and marimba arrangements of the gospel message. These instruments are transported by the evangelists for their services. Also vocal solos and duets by the evangelists will highlight the special two-week series.

Services will be held at 7:30 each evening except Monday. The public is invited to hear and enjoy the music and ministry of the Farrars.

Ex-Comanche County Residents Set Reunion

Hamlin area residents are advised that the eighth annual Comanche County reunion will be held at Mackenzie State Park in Lubbock next Sunday, August 24.

A basket lunch will be served at 1:00 o'clock, and then there will be singing led by Ben Stephenson, according to John Scitern, president of the group.

Many Killers Lurk in Average Home for Prying Youngsters

If you made a list of the "killers" around your home, you would be amazed. Insecticides and other poisonous chemicals stored within a child's reach can bring tragedy. Statistics prove this point. Two out of every 100 persons die each year from accidental poisoning. Of this number, every fourth person is between the ages of one and five years.

Check your home now to make sure that all "killers" are stored well out of reach of the children. Extension home management specialists suggest some important check points:

Start with the medicine chest. Keep it locked or make certain that it is high enough to keep children out. Label all bottles and materials stored there.

Keep cosmetics, soaps, bleaches, polishes and cleaning agents out of reach of small children.

Avoid throwing partially filled containers into waste baskets or trash barrels where children could test for taste.

Keep matches and all inflammable materials well out of reach.

Work of Camp Fire Girls Expanding To Meet Greater Service to Country

More than 100 girls of the Hamlin community are now participating in the program of Camp Fire Girls of ages from nine to 16 years.

The program embraces varied phases of practical and outdoor activities, an outline of the extensive program being released this week by the national headquarters being highlighted by the following information:

Camp Fire Girls, Inc. extended its educational and recreational program to 500,000 girls in 1957. The 1957 annual report of the organization released this week outlines progress made in program development, leadership training and increased services to local Camp Fire Girls councils.

This progress increased the ability of the organization to provide girls seven years old through senior high school age with opportunities to develop into mature adults capable of meeting the challenges of the future.

As a result of a 1957 Audience Research, Inc. study of Camp Fire Girls program and leadership, the governing body of the organization authorized a controlled experiment to determine possible changes in program content and membership age groupings. Program materials are being carefully evaluated to insure their meeting the needs of today's youth.

In 1957 professional positions were increased to 547, an addition of 38 over 1956. The national organization accelerated leadership and volunteer training, and appointed a new staff of 11 national recruiters to secure additional qualified personnel. A scholarship fund was set up to provide for graduate study for staff members and other young women interested in Camp Fire Girls as profession.

At its annual meeting the national council was especially concerned with strengthening the Camp Fire Girls organization in local communities. It recommended increasing the size of groups to bring the program to more girls and to enrich the group program experience. It also made plans for the organization's golden jubilee in 1960.

In keeping with the 1957 theme, "Together We Make Tomorrow," men and women volunteers and professionals, locally and nationally, aided Camp Fire Girls to grow as individuals and as members of society. "Helping today's girls 'make tomorrow' is—and ever has been—the heart of the Camp Fire Girls program," Mrs. Harold H. Hartman, 1957 president, declares in the report's opening message.

The 1957-58 national "Meet the People" project of Camp Fire Girls was carried out in cooperation with President Eisenhower's people-to-people program. Camp Fire Girls across the country studied their home town, met its citizens and photographed places and people. The photographs will be sent overseas to help children in other countries "Meet the People" of the United States.

This was only one service project of Camp Fire Girls in over 3,000 communities in 1957. For example, Blue Birds, the junior group, distributed anti-litterbug posters and prepared gift boxes and scrapbooks for hospital patients. One group of Camp Fire Girls distributed United Fund pamphlets; another baked cakes and prepared plants for elderly friends. Horizon Club members, the senior group, escorted blind children to a concert, sponsored a foreign exchange student and helped medical students pack supplies for shipment to doctors overseas.

In 1957 a total of 401 Camp Fire Girls day camps and 202 resident camps were conducted. Camp Fire Girls served its members, girls of every race, religion and economic status, at a total cost of $783,224 in 1957.

READY FOR BED.

Two celebrants registered at a hotel and asked for twin beds. In the darkness and confusion they both got into the same bed.

"Hey," yelled the first drunk, "they gyped me. There's another guy in my bed."

"There's somebody in my bed, too," said the second drunk. "Let's throw them out."

There was a terrific struggle and finally one drunk went sailing out of bed.

"I threw mine out," the one in the bed yelled. "How about you?"

"He threw we out!" "Well, that makes us even," whispered the first drunk. "Keep quiet and get in bed with me."

TO THE VOTERS OF JONES CO.

I appreciate the kindnesses and courtesies shown me throughout this election campaign.

I have tried to see as many of you as possible, but to the ones I missed may I take this means of soliciting your support in the August 23rd run-off primary.

I would like to say again a few things concerning my background. I have been a resident of Jones County all my life with the exception of one year. I am married and have three children. I served with the armed forces during World War II, spending 14 months overseas.

After I returned from military service, I took a course in bookkeeping and was employed for a time as salesman and parts manager for Watts Implement Company. For the past few years I owned and operated a wholesale and retail gasoline and butane business in Anson, having sold this out in October of last year.

I believe I am qualified to serve as County Clerk, and if you see fit to elect me to this office, I will try at all times to render the kind of service you would expect and deserve.

Accidental Deaths in Nation Total 95,000

What if a disaster wiped out every man, woman and child in Springfield, Illinois? The nation would be profoundly shocked.

Yet a total of 95,000 accidental deaths occurred in 1957 in the United States, according to the National Safety Council—about 10,000 more than the population of the Illinois capital city.

Further, accidents in 1957 injured 9,600,000 persons—comparable to the total population of Illinois.

Facts on the number of persons killed and injured accidentally in 1957 are contained in the council's recently published statistical year-book, "Accident Facts."

Students Take Class Work on Income Tax in Schools of Texas

Our great educators are having a good argument among themselves on what should be taught in our schools. Most of us are almost smart enough to agree that ignorance is bad and education is a fine thing. North Texas teachers are doing an outstanding job of helping our young folks save on their future income tax bill, declares Tax Man Sam in a release to The Herald.

The free "teaching taxes" course furnished by the Internal Revenue Service was used by 1,609 North Texas high school and college teachers to help 49,577 young North Texans become a little wiser on filling out their income tax returns during the past school year.

It would be our guess that the income tax instruction that these young North Texans received will be some of their most used and most profitable education. It looks like we will be figuring income tax forms for a long time, and knowing how to figure these forms will probably save these young taxpayers future time, money and aspirin tablets.

Members of the Hamlin Volunteer Fire Department were on the job quickly, but the flames spread so fast their principal was in protecting nearby property. Sparks were flying high and property all around the yard was wet by water from the strung from surrounding Temporary offices for the company have been opened in the Ted building formerly occupied by the Lone Star Gas Company. Officials of the firm are there, and business transactions may be made there, Manager A. Spencer said.

"Peter Pan" Film To Be Feature at Ferguson Theater

Tinker Bell, the most famous sprite in all the world of fable and theater, has been captured and, for the first time, made visible as a personality in Walt Disney's all-cartoon technicolor version of James M. Barrie's famous fantasy, "Peter Pan," which is showing Wednesday, Thursday and Friday at the Ferguson Theater.

Tinker Bell will creep into the heart and memory of every beholder and take a distinguished place in Walt's gallery of cartoon celebrities from the moment she appears on the screen.

After almost half a century of obscurity behind a dancing light beam on stage, Barrie's popular pixie takes form as a dainty bit of femininity of persuasive charm and magical power. With her red hair, green eyes, svelt figure and petite graces, she could win any beauty contest with one wing tied behind her.

Tinker Bell, tiny as Peter Pan's thumb, looms large in the destiny of the "boy who wouldn't grow up." She flits about on her honey-colored wings with the speed of a humming-bird. She glows like a firefly as she scatters her pixie dust to confound mortal beings. Her voice is a silvery tinkle.

As always in the Barrie play, she continues in Disney's "Peter Pan," re-released by Buena Vista, to be the chief sympathetic concern of the audience.

Milk Producers Lower But Production Is Up

During July, 1958, there were 541 producers on the Order 82 market compared to 553 during June and 658 during July 1957. Although there were 117 fewer producers on the market during July this year than during July, 1957, producer receipts were 7.9 per cent greater during July, 1958, than during the same month a year earlier. Average daily delivery per producer during July this year was 794 pounds compared to 767 pounds during June and 604 pounds during July, 1957.

Minimum uniform price to be paid for 4 per cent milk received by Central West Texas handlers from producers during July was $5.33 per 100, according to an announcement by Byford W. Bain, market administrator. Several milk producers south of Hamlin were included in the group.

Willinghams Elected To Angus Association

Terlton Willingham and Son of Hamlin have been elected to membership in the American Angus Association at St. Joseph, Missouri, announces Frank Richards, secretary, in a release to The Herald.

This membership was one of the 19 granted to pure-bred Aberdeen-Angus breeders in Texas during the past month.

Jones County 4-H Boys and Girls Attend Electrical Workshop

Four Jones County 4-H Club girls and boys attended the District III electrical training meeting at Vernon last Friday. The meeting was sponsored by the extension service and West Texas Utilities Company.

Barbara and Marverine Shuquist of the Avoca 4-H Club were the girls attending; and David Grissom of Ericksdahl and Mike Barbee of Noodle were the boys attending. The group were accompanied to Vernon by Mr. and Mrs. Elen S. List of Avoca; Mary Y. Newberry, home demonstration agent; and Kirby Clayton, county agent.

Purpose of the meeting was to present some practical and worthwhile information on the use of electricity and electrical equipment. Four-H Club members who attended will use the instruction and material received at the meeting in preparing demonstrations for educational work.

There is No Substitute for Experience . . .

In no place is this more important than where County Records are kept. The omission of a word or an error in a correct entry or accidental changing of a word or words can affect titles that could require a lot of expensive corrections, and if some of the people were no longer living they might not could be corrected.

RECOGNITION OF EFFICIENCY MUST COME

from careful work of employees who know their work from experience and training.

AN OIL MAN RECENTLY CAME HERE

to look up some records, expecting to have to spend the day. His information was obtained in a very short time. He told friends, "Jones County Records are not equalled in but few counties in Texas where my work calls me." Experience merited this statement.

CAN POLITICAL DEBTS BE PAID

with inexperienced help without loss to the thousands of records that protect our titles?

INEXPERIENCED HELP ALWAYS IS THE MOST EXPENSIVE

regardless of where and when used. If you contract for a home, you want an experienced carpenter. If your family needs medication, you get a reputable doctor with experience.

EFFICIENT EXPERIENCE IS IMPORTANT

if our County Records are maintained for our protection.

JOHNNY BRYANT is learning a lot about the insurance business. To be sure, he has already mastered most of the details—but he still finds that there is plenty to learn.

In fact, only this week he was given some modern phrases for the industry, viz:

Lapse—What people get when they sit down.
Juvenile Coverage—Diapers.
Disability Benefit—A raffle to buy someone a wooden leg.
Extended Term Insurance—Protection again a long jail sentence.
Grace Period—Just before your meals.

THERE WAS ONCE a snail in the bottom of a well 16 feet deep. Trying to get out, the snail would climb four feet every day, but each night the poor snail would slide back three feet. How many days did it take the snail to get to the top?

"Oh, that's easy," you may say. "Sixteen days, of course—one foot a day gain, and 16 feet the trip." But wait a minute! Think again. (See bottom of column).

"OIL ABOUT IT" column in The Rochester Reporter has fun talking about advertising in his June 19 issue.

In case you missed it, here is your chance:

Some advertising is misleading—all of it is not so straightforward as such local ads that say "Fresh Grade A Fryers, lb. 39 cents."

You've noticed that every now and then we publish in our want ad column the advice to investigate thoroughly any company requiring investment of your money or employment.

Now the Texas Press Association has advised us on several occasions that there is a genuine gyp connected with similar deals... and besides that the ads have proven to be misleading.

And we try to weed out the ones the TPA says are strictly gyp, but sometimes we can't tell which are and which are not—so we're taking their money for the ads, but be careful how they take yours!

But weekly newspapers have fewer "junk" ads than many publications.

Take some Sunday supplements, for example...

Ads in these would lead you to think that everybody, from baby to grandpa, was suffering needlessly—some are too skinny, others are plagued with slipping false teeth, others are afflicted with nervous tension. Some are nagged by backache, others have tired, aching feet, and still others have corns, callouses, athlete's foot and middle-age spread.

And there are those who have constipation, bladder discomfort, clogged sinuses, have bad breath; and the baby, of course, is miserable with teething pain and diaper rash.

The remedies are plentiful and sure.

New scientific discoveries keep you from getting up nights, fix you up with firm solid flesh, keep you from being irritable, put on or take off weight, et cetera.

And some folks believe anything they are told.

THE FARMER BOY from Sylvester community was doing his awkward best to work up to proposing.

"Betty Lou," he began, "I got me some fields cleared." (Long pause). "An' I got me a team of horses, and some hogs and cows, and chickens." (Long pause and a gulp). "An' this fall I'm gonna build me a house."

"Betty Lou" shook her mother, "Is that young fellow there yet?"

"No, Maw," answered Betty Lou smugly, "but he's a-gittin' there!"

TWO HAMLIN FELLOWS were talking the other day about a friend who had pulled a little job of deceit on his wife.

"Talk about Napoleon! That fellow Johnson is something of a strategist himself."

"As to how?"

"Got his salary raised some six months ago, and his wife hasn't found it out yet."

Snail Puzzle—Each day the snail really gained only one foot in getting out of the 16-foot well. At the end of the twelfth day it had reached 15 feet, but slid back to 12 feet during the night. But on the thirteenth day it reached 16 feet—the top of the well—and so it was out.

First Bale of 1958 Cotton in Tuesday

First bale of 1958 cotton for the Hamlin territory was brought in Tuesday morning by O. L. Cohorn of the Dovie community, east of town.

Cooperation of Parents, Teachers and Students Urged by Superintendent

"We are looking forward to a very profitable and enjoyable school year," declared Superintendent of Schools C. F. Cook this week as preparations were being rounded out for beginning of the new school term, which will get underway September 2. Cook made the following general statement:

Hamlin Public Schools will open on Tuesday, September 2. The general faculty meeting will be Friday morning, August 29, at 10:00 a. m. in the high school library. After this meeting the principals will meet or arrange for meetings with their faculties. Most students have been registered and schedules are complete. We are looking for a successful school year. If the students, faculty and parents continue to cooperate as they have in the past, I see no reason why we cannot have our best school year.

In some of our schools last year we had some unpleasant experiences. There were several reasons for this: Namely, several new teachers, lack of interest in many of our students, and lack of cooperation between our teachers and parents. We need to have all the help and cooperation that can possibly be given by all concerned.

We as teachers will admit that so many times we are in error, but this is only human; therefore, we must have the best of understanding and cooperation from the parent.

It is very necessary that we have good conduct in our classes in order to do a good job teaching. As superintendent of schools I am instructing all teachers in the Hamlin public schools that from his farm eight miles west of Hamlin. The 1955 first bale was harvested by W. J. Waddle on August 14, and the 1954 first bale was brought in by J. A. Harden on August 15.

The 1,940 pounds of seed cotton for the 1958 first bale was gathered by Cohorn from 13 acres of land. He said his crop would this year make about a quarter of a bale per acre. The bale was ginned free by the Farmers Cooperative Gin of Neida. It made a 478-pound bale of lint cotton and yielded 820 pounds of seed.

The first bale had not been graded Wednesday morning and had not been sold, according to G. W. Drummond, manager of the Neida gin.

Cohorn's cotton was planted on April 20, and was among some of the earliest cotton in the section.

good conduct is a must, and if your child cannot meet our rules, regulations and policies, it will be necessary that we take action to secure this end. I trust that everyone will cooperate—student, teacher and parent—because a good school is very vital.

This community has shown me that they are interested in a good school. I pledge my efforts to see that you get the best school we can have in Hamlin. Please call on the teachers and administration any time you desire to discuss school matters or just visit your schools.

LUMBER YARD RUINS WERE STILL SMOLDERING middle of the week many hours after the devastating flames Saturday evening did nearly $100,000 damage in destroying the big lumber yard and supply houses of R. B. Spencer & Company. This view, taken from atop The Herald building across the alley, shows the debris from the burned lumber and twisted sheet iron that covered the lumber sheds piled in a hodge-podge after hours of burning. Members of the Volunteer Fire Department spent two nights and most of two days at the site with fire trucks nearby to prevent any spread of flames from sparks that might arise from the smoldering mass. Only the central and south portions of the yards are shown in this view.

Record Number of Students Enrolled In DePriest School

DePriest Colored School last week got off to a fine start with an all-time record enrollment, declares Principal E. S. Morgan. The enrollment at week-end at totaled 190 students, compared with 162 at the end of the first week last year.

Morgan said that he expected more than 200 to be enrolled before the first of the year.

Another teacher has been added to the faculty at DePriest, making a total of nine on the staff. Newest addition is Mrs. Norvell Williams, who comes from Abilene. She received her AB degree from Texas State University at Houston. She will teach fifth and sixth grades and direct the school band.

Other teachers are: Mrs. Dollie Brown, who teaches first grade; Mrs. E. S. Morgan, second and third grades; Mrs. O. L. Moseley, third and fourth grades; Noble Canada, seventh and eighth grades; Mrs. W. C. Butler, high school English; Roosevelt Jones, mathematics and science; and Mrs. E. F. Ford, homemaking.

County 4-H Club Boys Attend Region Camp at Lake Cisco

Twenty-three 4-H Club boys represented Jones County at the annual six-county 4-H Club boys' camp held at Lake Cisco August 13 and 14, according to Kirby Clayton, county agent. Counties included in the camp are Callahan, Palo Pinto, Shackelford, Stephens, Eastland and Jones.

Boys participated in swimming races, horseshoes, washers, tug of war, and baseball. Captain Wood of the Fish and Wildlife Service from Brownwood gave an interesting talk on "Firearms Safety and Fishing."

Leaders who helped provide transportation to and from the camp were Bill DeBusk, Mr. Hugo B. Haterius, Mrs. Buck Newsom, Mrs. Birger Haterius, Mrs. Alene Wilhite and Mark Holloway.

Mark Holloway, Jones County 4-H Club member, won first place in the swimming contests, and several of the other Jones County club members won second places in the various contests.

DePriest School is due to dismiss soon for cotton picking.

MOB AIRS COMPLAINTS—A mob at Boyd tells a reporter their dislike for the Boyd police department after Police Chief Lee Y. Cockrell was shot in a Main Street gun fight. Nearly 200 gathered to cheer news of the chief's injury, complain about conditions in town since he became chief. Teen-agers predominated, but older persons also voiced dislike of the chief. Cockrell sustained several gun shot wounds in the fracas.

Nominal Interest Indicated in Saturday's Run-Off Election

Rev. Bill Hanna to Preach Farewell Message Sunday

Rev. Bill Hanna, pastor of the Hamlin Church of the Nazarene for almost two years, will deliver his farewell sermon Sunday morning, it is announced.

Rev. and Mrs. Hanna and their two children will move next week to Fort Worth, where Rev. Hanna will take up pastoral duties at the North Side Church of the Nazarene.

Sunday evening a special communion service is being planned.

In an interview with a Herald representative, Rev. Hanna observed: "We have greatly enjoyed our stay in Hamlin for these few months. Never before have we known a community more cordial and hospitable. We are deeply indebted and grateful to everyone who has helped to make our stay in Hamlin so pleasant."

A successor has been named for the Church of the Nazarene Church at Hamlin, and his acceptance is due this week.

Money Needed for Maintenance Work at Hamlin Cemetery

Due to the illness of the regular caretaker, A. F. Dixon, little work has been done during the last several weeks in the Hamlin East Cemetery, according to officials of the Hamlin Cemetery. However, it is hoped that work may be resumed soon, they said.

Association leaders urged this week that anyone who may be in arrears on dues for the maintenance of the city of the dead would please endeavor to pay up the account so that the unit will be able to carry on its work through the year without a stoppage for lack of money.

Remittances may be made to the Hamlin Cemetery Association, Box 83, at Hamlin. Further information may be secured by telephoning 299.

Two Offices in County to Decide Winners in Vote

Only moderate interest is being manifested this week by the voters of the Hamlin area in the forthcoming run-off primary election Saturday that will determine the winner in two county races and a justice of the peace race.

Several state offices also are involved in the voting that will probably register only about one-third of the county's potential voting strength, if interest over the rest of the county is about what it is in these parts.

The primary election on July 26 registered 3,378 votes, which was some 800 ballots short of the usual county voting strength. Observers here predicted that from 1,200 to 1,500 votes probably would be cast in the Saturday run-off.

Two county offices on which the election Saturday will determine the office holders for the next four years beginning January 1 are clerk of the district court and clerk of the county court. A precinct office, justice of the peace for Precinct 1 (composed of Anson and the south part of the county) also will be involved in the Saturday vote.

In the district clerk's race are W. L. (Poochey) McDonald and W. O. McGinnis. McDonald led the three-man race in the first primary.

In the county clerk's run-off are incumbent Gene Spurgin Jr. and Roy Thorn. Spurgin led the previous voting.

In the justice of the peace run-off are Albert Mathis and incumbent Joe W. Mathis. Story led in the five-man race earlier.

Youth Revival Being Led at First Methodist Church by Glasscock

Series of four evening evangelistic services sponsored by young people of the First Methodist Church began Wednesday evening at 8:00 o'clock, and will continue through Sunday evening, August 24. The services followed a pre-youth revival series of gatherings for young people of the community beginning Monday evening.

Doing the preaching in the four revival services is James Glasscock of Wellington, a recent graduate of McMurry College at Abilene. The past year he had held youth revivals throughout Texas. He was in Hamlin with this group about three years ago.

The public is invited to attend the series of services, according to youth leaders and church officials.

Spencer Officials Undecided About Rebuilding Yard

Origin of one of Hamlin's most disastrous fires in its 50-year history that Saturday completely destroyed the R. B. Spencer & Company lumber yard and offices Saturday evening remained a mystery at mid-week after several investigations by Fire Marshal Bryant Conner and insurance adjusters failed to reveal any clues.

The blaze, which broke out suddenly about 6:30 Saturday evening some 45 minutes after Manager A. Spencer had closed and left the yard for the day, quickly spread in the fresh lumber stacks in the shed and made a complete loss of the sheds, offices, a yard truck and a pre-fabricated five-room house that was on the north end of the yard. Records of the concern, which were in a big safe in the offices on the west side of the plant, were saved, Manager Spencer said.

Officials of the R. B. Spencer concern, with headquarters at Waco, were here Monday to check the destruction. They estimated the loss at between $80,000 and $90,000, which was "fairly well covered with insurance."

The blaze, which started in the south end of the material sheds containing roofing material, was first reported by Mrs. L. L. Cowan, owner of the Cowan Cleaners, just north of the lumber yard. She said she closed up about 6:30

College Quartet to Appear Friday Eve at Church of Nazarene

Troubadour Quartet from Bethany Nazarene College of Bethany, Oklahoma, will present a musical program at the Church of the Nazarene tomorrow (Friday) evening at 7:30 o'clock, it is announced by Rev. Bill Hanna, the pastor.

The program of the quartet will be followed by a brief message by Rev. Wayne Cash of First Church of the Nazarene in Abilene. This service is a part of several hundred similar services conducted on this educational zone in Nazarene churches. Purpose is to raise $300,000 for debt reduction and capital improvements.

Pastor Hanna and his congregation extend a cordial invitation to the public to attend this fine musical service.

Six new citizens have been recorded at the Hamlin Memorial Hospital since last week's report in The Herald. Four boys and two girls, they are:

A boy for Mr. and Mrs. Robert Cary Sr. arrived August 12. After having his weight checked at seven pounds eight ounces, he was assigned Jeffrey Glen for a name.

A boy arrived for Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Steel on August 12. The youngster, who was labeled John Alan, tipped the scales at seven pounds eight ounces.

A girl baby for Mr. and Mrs. C. N. Moore was born August 12. Balancing the scales at six pounds 12 ounces, she was given the name Angela Eunone.

A boy for Mr. and Mrs. Wilton Hayes discovered America August 14. Mickey Don was given as a name to the fellow who was weighed at seven pounds six ounces.

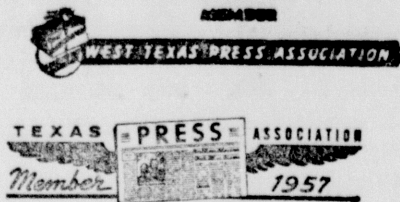

A girl for Mr. and Mrs. Richard Hawkins of Aspermont arrived August 16. After being weighed in at six pounds 12 ounces, she declared Toni Renee was suit her for a name.

TVA: THE WORLD'S GREATEST MILKING MACHINE

"It's strange how some government projects get off on the wrong track." Thus opens an editorial in the Montana Standard. And the object of the editorial's concern is the Tennessee Valley Authority.

In the beginning, let us not forget, TVA had one overriding purpose—to control floods and improve navigation on the Tennessee River. The hydro-electric power generated in the course of this work was to be strictly a by-product of relatively small importance.

But see what happened! As the Standard puts it: "TVA is primarily a power project today. Oddly enough, most of this power is generated by steam rather than falling water. As a matter of fact, 82 per cent of TVA's investment is related to the power business, and in 1956, 75 per cent of TVA's electricity was generated by steam plants."

Moreover, as the Standard points out, "the oddities of TVA do not end there." TVA represents an investment of more than $2,000,000,000. Of that huge sum, the state of Tennessee has contributed, so to speak, only chicken feed—$24,700,000. All the rest of the money came from taxpayers elsewhere. New York's bill was $294,000,000; California's $172,800,000; Illinois' $150,900,000; and so on down the list of the states.

Then, to quote the Standard once again, "Another interesting thing about TVA is that it has repaid to the U. S. treasury less than 10 per cent of the original investment, and it has never paid a penny of interest on the taxpayers' investment."

In the light of all this, is it any wonder that Investors League Bulletin characterizes TVA as "the greatest milking machine . . . in our history?" TVA has milked all taxpayers to a fare-thee-well—and the machine is still clanking away, and never pays a dime in income taxes.

Practicing Good Tactics

Three hundred years ago there lived in Connecticut a bachelor of 40, a man whose sole distinction was the dubious one of being the most sinful man in the entire colony.

At the same time there also lived in Connecticut a spinster of 32, a lady whose sole distinction was the dubious one of being the greatest shrew in the entire colony.

So, they were married, leaving everybody in complete agreement that such a marriage couldn't possibly last.

A few weeks passed. As had been expected, the bridegroom had become a haggard and driven man. No sympathy was wasted on him. "After all," his friends told him, "you knew what she was like. Why did you marry her?"

Now our hero for all his faults, was a shrewd man, and the solution to his problem suddenly dawned on him. "My friends," he confided, "I will tell you exactly why I married Agatha. As you know, I have led a wild life, one which requires great penance. How could I hope to go to heaven unless I could first suffer for my sins while still on earth? Who could 'best make me suffer? Agatha! So, I married her.' In a few hours the bridegroom's 'secret' was known all over town, and a meddling soul (with the best of intentions, mind you) relayed it to the bride.

"The soundrell!" she exploded. "Does he think I'll be his packhorse to take him to heaven? I'll show him!"

We are told that from that day on Agatha was the most pleasant, devoted and considerate wife that any man could hope to have, so that her husband became one of those fortunate men who succeed in tasting heaven while still on earth.

Is the Back Door Open?

History records that while the Christians were holding the city of Constantinople in the fifteenth century behind its massive 100-foot-high wall, an enemy soldier discovered a back door in the wall, open and unguarded. While the Christians battled from the parapets, the Moslems slipped through the unguarded door and the city was taken.

The United States is perhaps as impregnable from outside attack as was Constantinople, but it may also be as vulnerable from within. While our country is spending billions of dollars for defenses to protect itself from freedom destroying invaders, is it leaving a back door open?

A socialist trend that has persisted in the U. S. in recent years continues to encroach on private citizens and industry. The affairs of the country fall more and more under the control of invading bureaucracy. Thus we are gradually breaching our defenses of individual and personal liberty.

Six Mistakes of Man

Cicero wrote 2,000 years ago that mankind was always making these six mistakes, and things haven't changed much since that time—we're still making them:

1. The delusion that individual advancement is made by crushing others.
2. The tendency to worry about things that cannot be changed or corrected.
3. Insisting that a thing is impossible because we ourselves cannot accomplish it.
4. Refusing to set aside trivial preferences.
5. Neglecting development and refinement of mind, and not acquiring the habits of reading and study.
6. Attempting to compel other people to believe and live as we do.

The Unknown Future

A business man was allowed to have one single wish come true. In order to make it go as far as possible in many different directions, he asked for a copy of his state newspaper dated exactly six months into the future.

Miraculously, the paper was placed in his hands. He made many notes on stocks that had gone up, others that had gone down. He noted the position of baseball teams in order to make some private bets among friends. He read up on the international situation and the political developments that had occurred.

On the last page was the obituary column. Heading the list was his own name. He had suffered a heart attack the previous day.

The single greatest blessing we have in life is not to know what lies ahead.

Each One Doing His Best

The story of the Yankee peddler reminds us that most of our great business firms started on a shoestring. Even greater numbers of medium-sized and small firms originated in the same way, and are today making valued contributions to our economy.

The businessman who directs the expenditure of millions and the labor of thousands bears a tremendous responsibility to society. The man who operates a peanut stand or is employed in a so-called "minor" capacity usually has only a small impact on society, but is carrying just as great a responsibility as the big operator.

Every individual of character does his best at whatever he happens to be engaged. To the peanut vendor the quality of his peanuts and the volume of his sales are just as important as the quality and sales volume of his products are to the chairman of the board of our largest corporation. Each man does his best in his own way.

In our society we cannot place too much stress on this. Our success can be measured by the degree of pride with which each man, regardless of the "size" of his job, can honestly appraise his own efforts.

TWENTY YEARS AGO.

From the files of The Hamlin Herald dated August 19, 1938, the following news briefs of 20 years ago are reproduced:

The General Crude Oilers baseball team, which has been setting the woods afire with their playing in recent weeks, defeated the Foran Oilers Sunday afternoon by a 3 to 2 count for their twentieth straight victory of the year. Lefty Courtney, pitching for the locals, allowed only three hits in the fray.

Mrs. C. S. Dickey and little son, Jerry Don, of Aspermont, were over Monday to be with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Claud Newsom, who were here from California for a short visit.

First bale of 1938 cotton was brought to town Wednesday of this week by C. C. Lopez, farming southwest of town. It was ginned by the Fed H. Britton gin.

Mrs. Ineth Williams, daughter of Mrs. T. E. Harden, left Sunday for Chicago as one of the Curtis Publishing Company contest winners recently conducted.

TEN YEARS AGO.

Events in the Hamlin community 10 years ago included the following, reprinted from the issue of The Hamlin Herald dated August 20, 1948:

First bale of the 1948 cotton season was brought in Tuesday of this week by T. E. Walls of the Boyd's Chapel community south of town.

Gordon R. Bennett, former superintendent of Hamlin Schools and later in business here, has been named assistant to the president of McMurtry College at Abilene.

Troy T. Long of Hamlin has enlisted in the Army, according to the Abilene recruiting office.

Star Inzer of Hamlin has been named chairman for Jones County for the Texas Rural Roads Association.

FIVE YEARS AGO.

Goings-on in the Hamlin community are reflected in the following news briefs, taken from issue of The Hamlin Herald dated August 21, 1953:

Water restrictions, which have been in force in Hamlin for several weeks, may be raised soon, because of the recent catching of several months' supply of water in the South Lake, according to Mayor B. M. Brundage.

Two dry fire extinguishers and new electrical controls for the fire siren were received this week by the Hamlin Volunteer Fire Department.

J. B. Daniel, Hamlin Hatchery operator, and son, Wayne, 19, spent about two hours at the bottom of a well on the Joe Culbertson place northeast of town last Friday, where they had fallen some 30 feet while they were cleaning the well.

ONE YEAR AGO.

News bits from The Hamlin Herald dated August 22, 1957, include the following:

Formal open house for the new east wing addition to the Hamlin Memorial Hospital is scheduled for Sunday afternoon.

Rev. Bill Hanna, pastor of the Hamlin Church of the Nazarene, was elected president of the Hamlin Ministerial Alliance.

Enrollment at DePriest Colored School this week reached a record 184, according to E. S. Morgan, principal.

Checking Child's Health Before School Starts Is Vital, Says Health Official

Is your child starting to school this year for the first time? If so, is he ready for it? There is still some time left before school begins, and now is the time to prepare him for his exciting adventure.

He needs to start his school life in good physical health. Have your family physician give him a complete physical examination even though he has periodically examined your child in the last few years. An eye test is very important, and teeth should be checked by the family dentist. Now is the time to recheck and correct any defects not found in the past before school begins.

Most likely your child has already been immunized against polio, diphtheria, tetanus, whooping cough (pertussis) and smallpox, but if he hasn't, have these immunizations started immediately for his own protection and that of his classmates. And, by all means, do not wait until school starts for those polio shots. Even if all immunizations have been done, be sure to check with your doctor about necessary booster shots.

Your child should have escaped these "childhood" diseases by early and correct immunization while he was still in the protective atmosphere of his home, but once he starts he will be exposed to conditions that he is unfamiliar with and may not be able to cope with if he is not protected. Be sure and learn how his school handles sudden illness or accidents and your role in avoiding them.

He should know how to wash his face and hands, how to comb his hair, and how to use a handkerchief or tissue, not only for blowing his nose, but for covering a cough or sneeze.

Perhaps the most important part of your child's preparation for school is his mental and emotional outlook. Learning to give and take, to get along with others, will be necessary at school—and throughout life. If he has felt secure in your affection, has learned to take his place in the family group, shared in small responsibilities and learned to do some things on his own—if he has played with children his own age, the chances are that he will get along well at school.

But there are other factors, too. Not enough sleep can make him tired and edgy. He may need from 10 to 12 hours a night to build up his energy. If you have not already begun, now is the time to see that your child has plenty of sleep regularly.

As parents, you will play the leading role in the development of your child's character and personality. His future depends more than anything else on your support and encouragement in his outside activities.

Autoist Urged to Fit into Pattern of Traffic Movement

"Don't be a traffic misfit—the fellow who's out of step is out of luck!"

That warning was given to motorists this week by J. O. Musick, general manager of the Texas Safety Association, as he discussed the share-the-road program of the Texas Safety Association. This program is a part of the nationwide back-the-attack-on-traffic accidents campaign.

"Safety on the highway depends to a great extent on the smooth, even flow of traffic," Musick said. "Whenever you interrupt this flow you're in trouble—and so are the drivers around you. Here are a few examples of stunts that will foul up traffic in a hurry:

"Stopping suddenly can cause an aggravating pile-up of the cars behind you. Making a turn from the wrong lane is sure to jam things up in the lane you barge into. Hugging the bumper of the car ahead makes you a sitting duck for a serious accident if the fellow in front stops suddenly.

"Speed is another thing that must be adjusted to the traffic flow," Musick said. "In fact, excessive speed accounted for more than 57 per cent of the rural fatal accidents in Texas last year. So set your speed to help maintain a smooth, even flow of traffic."

WANTED A CHANGE.

Homer Livingston, president of the American Bankers Association, tells this one:

Livingston was addressing a large group of bankers in Louisville when the microphone ceased to function. Raising his voice, he asked a man in the back row if he could hear.

"No," said the man. Whereupon a man in the front row stood up.

"I can hear," he shouted to the gent in back. "And I'll change places with you."

"Yes, sir, I did."

"But I saw you at the ball game."

BARGAIN AT THAT.

"That's a good looking car you have, Jim. What did you give for it?"

"Rather not tell you, friend. Let's just say I gave the man my note for it."

"Got it real cheap then, didn't you?"

House and Senate Approve Farm Bill Designed to Give Cotton Farmer Relief

The U. S. Senate Monday night approved a controversial farm bill expected to benefit cotton and rice interests this election year.

Farmers of the Hamlin area contacted by a Herald representative were mixed in their reactions to the effects the bill would have on acreage cut-backs and lowered government price supports.

The measure now goes to the white house.

By a voice vote after brief debate, senators reversed their previous demands for a compromise effort with the House and accepted changes made there in a Senate bill.

Major provisions of the compromise would prevent drastic cut-backs in planting allowances for cotton and rice farmers next year; remove planting controls from corn farmers; and continue a wool subsidy program for three more years.

Secretary of Agriculture Benson has indicated the president will approve the measure because it permits lower government price supports on cotton, rice, corn and other livestock feed grains.

Farm belt opponents to Benson in Congress reluctantly agreed to these features in order to prevent drastic cut-backs in plantings of cotton and rice.

Existing law, which gives the secretary of agriculture authority to hold down acreage allotments eligible for price supports on major crops, also requires support levels between 75 and 90 per cent of parity on corn, cotton and rice.

Parity is a computed price level intended to give farm products a fair return in relation to production costs.

The new bill permits the minimum or floor to drop to 65 per cent of parity. Benson had asked and the Senate voted a lower 60 per cent minimum.

Along with the lower supports, the bill prevents a cut in cotton acreage below 16,000,000 acres or in rice below the allotment of this year.

Ysleta del Sur, established in 1682 near El Paso, is Texas' oldest permanent settlement.

TEXAS BACKFIELD COMBINATION BROKEN UP—With Max Alvis (top) signing a professional baseball contract, the University of Texas retains only half of the combination that gave it exceptional halfback play last year. Returning for his junior year will be George Blanch of Nixon, one of only three starters returning for this year's grid team.

"My sakes," declared the mother-in-law as she surveyed the twins. "How do you tell them apart?"

"It's easy," the proud father replied. "Jimmy cries a lot, but little Marie just sleeps all the time."

People of Retirement Age Should Check SS Elderly Citizens Now

If you've reached retirement age (65 for men and 62 for women), H. C. Haney of the Abilene office of the Social Security Administration wants to see you on his next trip to Hamlin—provided you have some social security credits on your record.

He says he is finding many folks who miss out on some retirement checks because of the mistaken idea that all work must stop before any social security checks are due.

So, local readers with sufficient birthdays and a couple of years or more of social security credits should plan now to see Haney here at the fire station at 10:00 o'clock on Tuesday, September 9.

Louis C. Brown Takes Part in Maneuvers

Private First Class, Louis C. Brown, son of Mrs. Theresa Brown of Route 2, Hamlin, recently participated in a demonstration of Army artillery weapons for Turkish officers at Baumholder, Germany, according to a news release from that base to The Herald.

A cannoner in the 265th Field Artillery Battalion, Brown entered the Army in May, 1957, completed basic training at Fort Polk, Louisiana, and arrived in Europe last May.

The 18-year-old soldier is a 1957 graduate of Oscar DePriest High School in Hamlin.

Texas' present capitol building was dedicated in May, 1888.

Three from Area Included in Draft Call in September

An estimated three from Jones County are due to be included in the draft quota for September.

The state quota for Texas draft boards in September calls for 373 men, Colonel Morris S. Schwartz, state selective service director, said Friday.

The state's September call of 373 compares with a quota of 539 for August, previously announced. The September call is the state's share of a national call of 11,000 men, all for the Army.

The state director of selective service also announced that 1,048 men were scheduled to take pre-induction and mental and physical examinations in September.

The September quota will be filled with men who are at least 22 years old on September 1, with exception of volunteers or delinquents, who may be younger.

Some reservists and National Guardsmen also may be called up if they fail to participate satisfactorily in their units.

WRONG QUESTION

A mother with six children boarded a bus and gave the driver so much trouble that he said at the end of the trip:

"Lady, I wonder why you don't leave half of your youngsters at home when you travel."

The mother looked him straight in the eye and answered, "I did!"

Unique Programs of Music Scheduled at Foursquare Church

Rev. and Mrs. George Farrar will be conducting revival services at the Foursquare Church in Hamlin beginning Tuesday, August 26, and continuing through Sunday, September 7, it is announced by the pastor, Rev. John Holland.

The unique and accomplished musical program that will accompany the spirit-filled ministry of Rev. Farrar will be a blessing to all who attend, Holland asserts. It will include special piano, organ and marimba arrangements of the gospel message. These instruments are transported by the evangelists for their services. Also vocal solos and duets by the evangelists will highlight the special two-week series.

Services will be held at 7:30 each evening except Monday. The public is invited to hear and enjoy the music and ministry of the Farrars.

Ex-Comanche County Residents Set Reunion

Hamlin area residents are advised that the eighth annual Comanche County reunion will be held at Mackenzie State Park in Lubbock next Sunday, August 24.

A basket lunch will be served at 1:00 o'clock, and then these will be singing led by Ben Stephenson, according to John Seitem, president of the group.

Many Killers Lurk in Average Home for Prying Youngsters

If you made a list of the "killers" around your home, you would be amazed. Insecticides and other poisonous chemicals stored within a child's reach can bring tragedy. Statistics prove this point. Two out of every 100 persons die each year from accidental poisoning. Of this number, every fourth person is between the ages of one and five years.

Check your home now to make sure that all "killers" are stored well out of reach of the children. Extension home management specialists suggest some important check points:

Start with the medicine chest. Keep it locked or make certain that it is high enough to keep children out. Label all bottles and materials stored there.

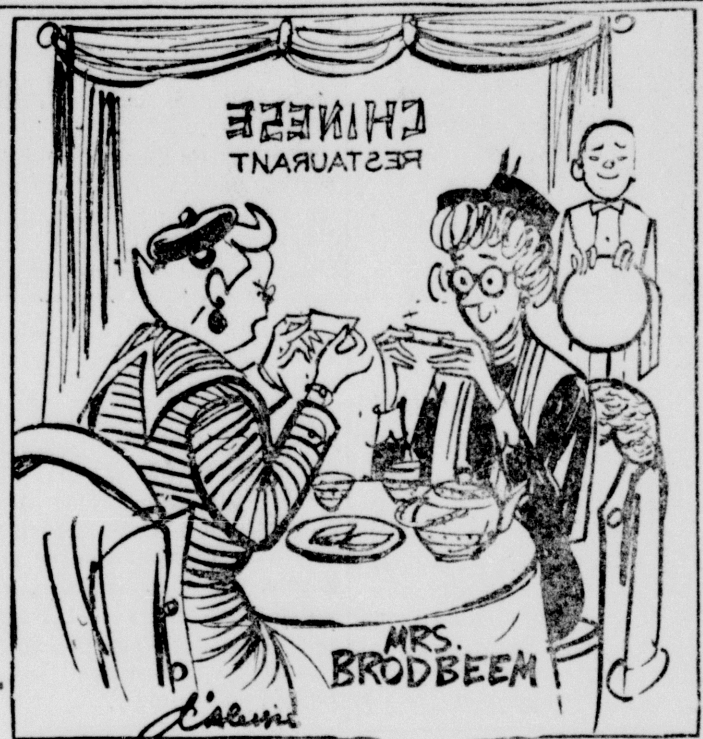

Keep cosmetics, soaps, bleaches, polishes and cleaning agents out of reach of small children.

Avoid throwing partially filled containers into waste baskets or trash barrels where children could test for taste.

Keep matches and all inflammable materials well out of reach.

Work of Camp Fire Girls Expanding To Meet Greater Service to Country

More than 100 girls of the Hamlin community are now participating in the program of Camp Fire Girls of ages from nine to 16 years.

The program embraces varied phases of practical and outdoor activities, an outline of the extensive program being released this week by the national headquarters, being highlighted by the following information:

Camp Fire Girls, Inc. extended its educational and recreational program to 500,000 girls in 1957. The 1957 annual report of the organization released this week outlines progress made in program development, leadership training and increased services to local Camp Fire Girls councils.

This progress increased the ability of the organization to provide girls seven years old through senior high school age with opportunities to develop into mature adults capable of meeting the challenges of the future.

As a result of a 1957 Audience Research, Inc. study of Camp Fire Girls program and leadership, the governing body of the organization authorized a controlled experiment to determine possible changes in program content and membership age groupings. Program materials are being carefully evaluated to insure their meeting the needs of today's youth.

In 1957 professional positions were increased to 547, an addition of 38 over 1956. The national organization accelerated leadership and volunteer training, and appointed a new staff of 11 national recruiters to secure additional qualified personnel. A scholarship fund was set up to provide for graduate study for staff members and other young women interested in Camp Fire Girls as profession.

At its annual meeting the national council was especially concerned with strengthening the Camp Fire Girls organization in local communities. It recommended increasing the size of groups to bring the program to more girls and to enrich the group program experience. It also made plans for the organization's golden jubilee in 1960.

In keeping with the 1957 theme, "Together We Make Tomorrow," men and women volunteers and professionals, locally and nation-

Seven students from Hamlin last week attended a twirling and drum majoring workshop at Texas Christian University at Fort Worth.

They were Brenda Fincannon, Judith Ford, Martha Gage, Wynnne Conner, Peggy Killian, Betty Maberry and Judy Parker, all students at Hamlin High School.

The six-day clinic was directed by F. R. (Woody) Woodard of Fort Worth, a former director of high school bands in the city, along with a staff of twirling specialists. Woodard was a former drum major of the TCU Horned Frog Band.

Twirling and drum majoring activities at the workshop included baton handling, development of individual and group routines, drum majoring fundamentals, command signals and elements of leadership.

The workshop is sponsored by the TCU School of Fine Arts.

READY FOR BED.

Two celebrants registered at a hotel and asked for twin beds. In the darkness and confusion they both got into the same bed.

"Hey," yelled the first drunk. "they gyped me. There's another guy in my bed."

"There's somebody in my bed, too," said the second drunk. "Let's throw them out."

There was a terrific struggle and finally one drunk went sailing out of bed.

"I threw mine out," the one in the bed yelled. "How about you?"

"He threw we out!" "Well, that makes us even," whispered the first drunk. "Keep quiet and get in bed with me."

TO THE VOTERS OF JONES CO.

I appreciate the kindnesses and courtesies shown me throughout this election campaign.

I have tried to see as many of you as possible, but to the ones I missed may I take this means of soliciting your support in the August 23rd run-off primary.

I would like to say again a few things concerning my background. I have been a resident of Jones County all my life with the exception of one year. I am married and have three children. I served with the armed forces during World War II, spending 14 months overseas.

After I returned from military service, I took a course in bookkeeping and was employed for a time as salesman and parts manager for Watts Implement Company. For the past few years I owned and operated a wholesale and retail gasoline and butane business in Anson, having sold this out in October of last year.

I believe I am qualified to serve as County Clerk, and if you see fit to elect me to this office, I will try at all times to render the kind of service you would expect and deserve.

Rev. J. B. Turner Dies Thursday at Hamlin Residence

At the ripe old age of 83 years, Rev. John Boyd Turner, pioneer Southern Baptist minister of the state, died last Thursday evening at the family residence in Hamlin after a lengthy illness. He had been seriously ill for several days before his death.

Born May 3, 1875, at Belton, he was the son of Captain and Mrs. J. W. Turner. He married the former Laura Belle Perry at Belton on November 10, 1929. He had preached many years in the central portion of the state. The couple moved to Hamlin about five years ago.

Rev. Turner was ordained by church at Hobbs, New Mexico, in 1910, and was county missionary for Baptist churches in Jones County for three years. He had previously joined the Baptist church at Neinda in 1907.

Funeral services were conducted Sunday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at the Neinda Baptist Church. Rev. G. C. Henry, pastor of the Calvary Baptist Church of Hamlin and Rev. W. C. Ray of Sweetwater officiated. Burial was in the Neinda Cemetery under direction of Hamlin Funeral Home.

Surviving the octogenarian are his widow, Mrs. Laura Turner of Hamlin; three sons, John W. and W. A. Turner of Hamlin and Joe Boyd Turner of Stamford; three daughters, Mrs. J. C. West of Salinas, California, Mrs. Charles Pearl of Snyder and Mrs. Thomas Perry of Hamlin; and 14 grandchildren.

Air Base Chaplain Tells Rotary Club Air Force Is Potent

United States Air Force is a most potent force for peace or in time of war, declared First Lieutenant Roy Browning, chaplain of the Dyess Air Force Base at Abilene, when he spoke at last Wednesday noon's luncheon of the Hamlin Rotary Club at the oil mill guest house.

The air force man showed pictures of the powerful B-47 fighter-bomber planes now operated by the Air Force that pack the power of all the bombers that bombed Berlin during World War II. A crew of three men, he said, could fly one of the super planes anywhere in the world in a matter of a few hours and deliver a punch in a single blow that would destroy millions of people.

The chaplain then concluded his remarks with details of the functions and ministrations of chaplains in the U. S. armed forces. He declared that he, a Protestant minister, had to forfeit no doctrinal beliefs in order to hold his office in the military. He pointed

Pre-Youth Revival Services Staged by Methodist Youths

Last Sunday evening members of the Methodist Youth Fellowship of the First Methodist Church had as a special guest Nora Schwabe, an exchange student from Germany, who is living at Stamford and will attend Stamford High School as a senior student the coming year.

Nora is a very personable 17-year-old. She related her experiences, including coming to America by plane with some 130 other exchange students. Nora has a married sister and a 15-year-old sister in Germany, as well as her mother. Her father, a surgeon, has been missing since 1943.

Mouday evening there was a swimming party at 7:30 o'clock at the City Park swimming pool. Ice cream was served afterward to attendants, who numbered between 30 and 40 young people.

Tuesday evening there was a planned recreation session at the church, followed by a candlelight altar service.

Wednesday evening at 6:30 the young people were to have supper and recreation, followed by discussion groups.

The services were part of a series of pre-youth revival services for young people of the city. The revival was to begin Wednesday evening and continue through Sunday evening, August 24.

"I'll still be there," the second merchant shouted angrily.

"And if you beat me in the Supreme Court, I'll appeal to hell!"

"My lawyer will be there," the second merchant replied quietly.

Rev. Robb Tells Lions Club Name Is Vital to World

Names, and what they bring to mind are important, declared Rev. Edmund W. Robb, pastor of the First Methodist Church, when he spoke at the Tuesday noon luncheon of Hamlin Lions Club at the oil mill guest house on "What's in a Name?"

The minister pointed to famous names of the Bible, such as God, Jesus, Abraham, Jacob, Peter, Elizabeth and Paul and pointed to their meanings then and now. He cited Quisling, Hitler, Stalin, John Wesley and others of modern times as standing for certain characteristics or opinions in the minds of people.

Names have associations with reputations, Robb reminded, as he urged his hearers to be careful of their use of their names. "What does your name mean to you, your influence, others and your community?" he pointedly asked as he cited the need for one's name to reflect personality, convictions and influence.

President Stan Sheppard of the Lions Club reminded members that there will be no meeting of the civic group next Tuesday at noon on account of the picnic at the City Park Tuesday evening at 6:30 for Lions and Rotarians and their guests.

Besides Robb, other guests at the Tuesday luncheon included Tom Blakemore of Lubbock, Dr. J. E. Harrison, new Hamlin dentist; John Traub, Merrill Herring and Jerry Duncan.

Accidental Deaths in Nation Total 95,000

What if a disaster wiped out every man, woman and child in Springfield, Illinois? The nation would be profoundly shocked.

Yet a total of 95,000 accidental deaths occurred in 1957 in the United States, according to the National Safety Council—about 10,000 more than the population of the Illinois capital city.

Further, accidents in 1957 injured 9,600,000 persons—comparable to the total population of Illinois.

Facts on the number of persons killed and injured accidentally in 1957 are contained in the council's recently published statistical year-book, "Accident Facts."

The man had been eating in a little cafe for years, and the sign over the coffee urn, "Susie's Home Cooking," intrigued him. One day his curiosity got the better of him, and he said to the waitress: "I've been eating here a long time, and I've never seen Susie. Tell me, where is she?" "She's just where the sign says she is," replied the waitress. "She's home cooking."

Students Take Class Work on Income Tax in Schools of Texas

Our great educators are having a good argument among themselves on what should be taught in our schools. Most of us are almost smart enough to agree that ignorance is bad and education is a fine thing. North Texas teachers are doing an outstanding job of helping our young folks save on their future income tax bill, declares Tax Man Sam in a release to The Herald.

The free "teaching taxes" course furnished by the Internal Revenue Service was used by 1,609 North Texas high school and college teachers to help 49,577 young North Texans become a little wiser on filling out their income tax returns during the past school year.

It would be our guess that the income tax instruction that these young North Texans received will be some of their most used and most profitable education. It looks like we will be figuring income tax forms for a long time, and knowing how to figure these forms will probably save these young taxpayers future time, money and aspirin tablets.

Missionaries to Cuba To Appear Friday at Foursquare Church

Rev. and Mrs. Donald Edwards and their two daughters, who are on leave from their work as missionaries to the island of Cuba, will be in the Foursquare Church in Hamlin tomorrow (Friday) evening. It is announced by the pastor, Rev. John Holland. They will be bringing a report of the results of efforts by the Foursquare Missions Department on that island.

The visit to the Hamlin church is part of a plan to "know your missionaries" for increased cooperation between church and mission work, Holland declares.

The Edwards family is versatile in the presentation of pictures, dress costuming of the natives and the artifacts they will have with them. They have had outstanding success in Cuba, and will be inspiring to all who attend.

It makes sense

Both Cosden Premium Ethyl and Higher Octane Regular have been engineered to deliver maximum performance. This means sure starts, quicker get-away, greater mileage per gallon.

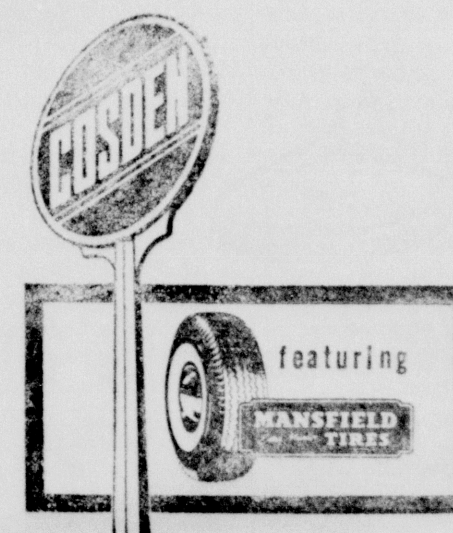

Cosden's 10W30 multi-viscosity motor oil — designed to work with this gasoline — reaches deep down into engines, routing out friction, smoothing the way.

Together — motor oil and motor fuel — this Cosden Performance Team will give you smooth power, passing power, sure starts and quick get-away. They're made to go together.

Result: greater performance, greater economy, greater enjoyment from your car!

p. m. and saw smoke coming from the upper deck of the lumber yard on the southeast corner.

Members of the Hamlin Volunteer Fire Department were on the job quickly, but the flames spread so fast their principal job was in protecting nearby buildings. Sparks were flying high and property all around the yard was wet by water from the stream from surrounding brick walls at both ends of the yard. Sheds helped to contain the fire. Fire Chief James Smith said.

Remained on the job until the fire was out. The fire was caused by the piles of debris in the yard. The fire was out in about 15 minutes.

Officials said first of all they were undecided as to whether they would rebuild the lumber yard or not. They will await company conferences.

Temporary offices for the company have been opened in the Ted Smith building formerly occupied by the Lone Star Gas Company. The company is there, and business transactions may be made there, Manager A. Spencer said.

"Peter Pan" Film To Be Feature at Ferguson Theater

Tinker Bell, the most famous sprite in all the world of fable and theater, has been captured and, for the first time, made visible as a personality in Walt Disney's all-cartoon technicolor version of James M. Barrie's famous fantasy, "Peter Pan," which is showing Wednesday, Thursday and Friday at the Ferguson Theater.

Tinker Bell will creep into the heart and memory of every beholder and take a distinguished place in Walt's gallery of cartoon celebrities from the moment she appears on the screen.

After almost half a century of obscurity behind a dancing light beam on stage, Barrie's popular pixie takes form as a dainty bit of femininity of persuasive charm and magical power. With her red hair, green eyes, svelt figure and petite graces, she could win any beauty contest with one wing tied behind her.

Tinker Bell, tiny as Peter Pan's thumb, looms large in the destiny of the "boy who wouldn't grow up." She flits about on her honey-colored wings with the speed of a humming-bird. She glows like a firefly as she scatters her pixie dust to confound mortal beings. Her voice is a silvery tinkle.

As always in the Barrie play, she continues in Disney's "Peter Pan," re-released by Buena Vista, to be the chief sympathetic concern of the audience.

Milk Producers Lower But Production Is Up

During July, 1958, there were 541 producers on the Order 82 market compared to 553 during June and 658 during July 1957. Although there were 117 fewer producers on the market during July this year than during July, 1957, producer receipts were 7.9 per cent greater during July, 1958, than during the same month a year earlier. Average daily delivery per producer during July this year was 794 pounds compared to 767 pounds during June and 604 pounds during July, 1957.

Minimum uniform price to be paid for 4 per cent milk received by Central West Texas handlers from producers during July was $5.33 per 100, according to an announcement by Byford W. Bain, market administrator. Several milk producers south of Hamlin were included in the group.

Willinghams Elected To Angus Association

Tarleton Willingham and Son of Hamlin have been elected to membership in the American Angus Association at St. Joseph, Missouri, announces Frank Richards, secretary, in a release to The Herald.

This membership was one of the 19 granted to pure-bred Aberdeen-Angus breeders in Texas during the past month.

TO THE VOTERS OF JONES COUNTY . . .

With deep appreciation for the fine support given me in the First Primary, I again respectfully solicit your vote on Saturday, August 23rd, for . . .

Clerk of the District Court of Jones County which position I feel I am qualified to fill due to training and experience.

If you see fit to cast your ballot for me I assure you that there will never be any cause for regret.

Sincerely,

W. O. McGinnis

Jones County 4-H Boys and Girls Attend Electrical Workshop

Four Jones County 4-H Club girls and boys attended the District III electrical training meeting at Vernon last Friday. The meeting was sponsored by the extension service and West Texas Utilities Company.

Barbara and Marverine Shuquist of the Avoca 4-H Club were the girls attending; and David Grissom of Ericksdahl and Mike Barbee of Noodle were the boys attending. The group were accompanied to the meeting by Mr. and Mrs. Elben Shuquist of Avoca; Mary Y. Newberry, home demonstration agent; and Kirby Clayton, county agent.

Purpose of the meeting was to present some practical and worthwhile information on the use of electricity and electrical equipment. Four-H Club members who attended will use the instruction and material received at the meeting in preparing demonstrations for educational work.

There is No Substitute for Experience . . .

In no place is this more important than where County Records are kept. The omission of a word or an error in a correct entry or accidental changing of a word or words can affect titles that could require a lot of expensive corrections, and if some of the people were no longer living they might not could be corrected.

RECOGNITION OF EFFICIENCY MUST COME

from careful work of employees who know their work from experience and training.

AN OIL MAN RECENTLY CAME HERE

to look up some records, expecting to have to spend the day. His information was obtained in a very short time. He told friends, "Jones County Records are not equalled in but few counties in Texas where my work calls me." Experience merited this statement.

CAN POLITICAL DEBTS BE PAID

with inexperienced help without loss to the thousands of records that protect our titles?

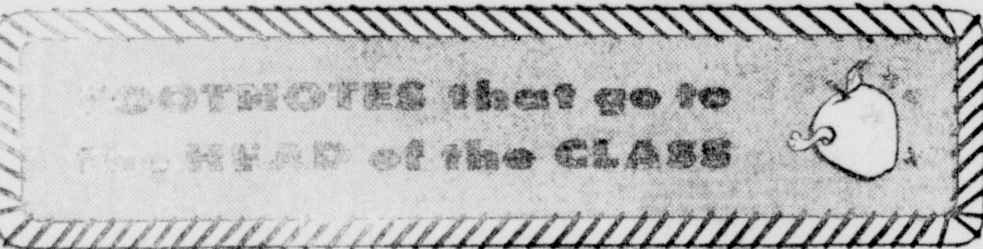

INEXPERIENCED HELP ALWAYS IS THE MOST EXPENSIVE

regardless of where and when used. If you contract for a home, you want an experienced carpenter. If your family needs medication, you get a reputable doctor with experience.

EFFICIENT EXPERIENCE IS IMPORTANT

if our County Records are maintained for our protection.

(Paid for by friends of Gene Spurgin Jr., who appreciate his ability as County Clerk and his experienced helpers)
